ROBBERS IN GLENDALE

E. S. SHANK HOME ON RIVERDALE DRIVE ROBBED SUNDAY EVENING

During the time that the family of E. S. Shank, 1533 Riverdale Drive, were out of their home Sunday evening a burglar who had evidently studied the habits of the family forced an entrance into the house through a rear window and leisurely looted the establishment. It is concluded that he was alone because there were many articles that he might have taken away but was forced to leave. Even as it was he must have had some difficulty in getting out and away with what he had seized.

Examination of the premises revealed the track of a small foot in the ground below the back window where entrance had been effected. Some of the articles taken were: A dress coat and vest, a cravenette overcoat, two pairs of pants, two Norfolk coats and vests, a diamond pin worth $30, another smaller diamond pin worth $20, a gold watch, a gold enamel clover leaf stick pin, a fine field glass and a 25-foot steel tape.

By the time the family got back the thief was probably back in Los Angeles, the place whence he probably came. It is believed that there are thieves in Los Angeles who make a specialty of studying the ways and habits of the smaller towns and having become thoroughly acquainted with the premises wait a favorable opportunity and take the spoil at their leisure. There were many such cases last year and there will probably be more this year, especially where premises are left temptingly insecure. The police are working on this case; but by the time it got into their hands the thieves were safe in the obscurity of the big city.

BASKETBALL GAME TONIGHT

There will be an interesting and exciting clash on the basketball field between Whittier College and Glendale Athletics. The Whittier team is the leading team of the league and one of the fastest in the country. Its famous center, McBurney, was chosen one year ago as center of the All-Southern California team. Taylor, the center of the Glendale team, was chosen two years ago for the same position. They are intense rivals in a good-humored way. Nevertheless the rivalry is a reality and the game tonight will be characterized by a keen contest between the two men, as on the result of this game depends very much which of the two will be selected this year as the All-Southern California center. The man scoring most points in this game is almost certain to be chosen.

Apart from the rivalry of the centers there is a strong desire on the part of the Glendale boys to beat their formidable rivals. Glendale has been nosed out of its rightful place several times in tied games and has a chance to climb a bit should it beat the league leaders tonight.

Everyone in Glendale who is anxious to see this city take the prominent place it has hitherto done in athletics should come out and help the team by generous encouragement. The game is certain to be fast and keen and those who attend will be treated to an exhibition of first-class basketball by teams that are experts. The game will begin at 8:15 precisely.

Following is the lineup:

Glendale—Littell and Bidwell, forwards; Taylor, center; Farner and Stone, guards.

Whittier College—Finch and Spicer, forwards; McBurney, center; Sharpless and McBride, guards.

THE CRY OF THE JEWS

STRIKING ORIGINAL POEM RECITED BY RABBI MYERS AT THE CLOSE OF HIS SPEECH ON SUNDAY

Rabbi Myers is a Jew, a Hebrew of the Hebrews. The language of the Jewish people is the language of his delight. He knows it in all its intricacies and plays on it as the performer on the flute. More than that, he knows the English language in its entirety and its niceties and can juggle with word as the juggler in the circus keeps half-a-dozen knives and as many brass balls going rhythmically in the air at the same time, yet all under his control.

Those who had the pleasure of hearing the rabbi tell of the miseries and horrors of war on Sunday at the mass meeting know that there is also dramatic force and fire in his compact brain and that the fervor and eloquence of the real orator live in his soul. He knows the Horatian maxim, "Si vis me flere, dolundum est primumipsi tibi." That is to say, "If you wish me to weep you must first weep yourself." Rabbi Myers, thrilling to the core with the woes of his people, was able to thrill his audience with this remarkable appeal wherewith he closed his address:

The Cry of the Jewish War Sufferers

High above the cannon's roar
Jewish victims of the war
Raise their voices, aid implore,
  While they mourn their loved ones dead.
Hear the hungry widows sighing,
Hear the famished orphans crying,
"Oh, we're dying, dying, dying,
  Help us brothers, send us bread."

Scenes where peace and calm did dwell,
Changed into a raging hell,
Witnessed how brave thousands fell,
  See the desolation dread.
Filled with terrors most appalling,
Chained to miseries grim and galling,
Jews are calling, calling, calling,
  "Help us, brothers, send us bread!"

War has left its bloody trail
In Galicia and the "Pale,"
And the sons of Israel wail,
  Thousands ruined, horror-fed.
Through the burning and the slaying
Grief and want with them are staying,
Hear them praying, praying, praying,
  "Help us, brothers, send us bread!"

All is gone that was their own;
Oh, 'twould melt a heart of stone
Just to hear the exiles moan,
  Helpless, homeless and unfed.
Dazed they go, their hearts all bleeding;
May their cause receive your heeding.
Hear them pleading, pleading, pleading,
  "Help us, brothers, send us bread!"

LAWSUIT OVER 13 CENTS

A lawsuit over thirteen cents was brought before Judge Miller's court the other day. The suit was in the nature of supplementary proceedings for the balance of a debt of $1.25 alleged to have been due on plumbing work done by a certain plumbing firm for F. J. Collings and Mrs. Anna E. Collings or Sholes, Burbank. Judgment was given for the 13 cents with costs and interest. The costs of recovering this small sum will amount to $27.50. The case was brought by Charles N. Frager, assignee for the plumbing firm. The assignee levied on a 7-passenger Hudson auto owned by the Collings; but the Collings have appealed to the Superior court and by the time the controversy over the small debt has been settled the cost of the proceedings will probably have swelled to more than $100.

LECTURE ON INDIA

Mrs. Dr. J. H. Harpster, who for many years was a missionary in India specially at the Guntur Lutheran Mission, gave a most interesting lecture on life among the natives of the east coast of India. The lecture was delivered at the First Lutheran Church and was enjoyed by a large audience. Profusely illustrated with stereopticon slides the lecture brought vividly before the minds of those present the effective work done among the women and children of India by these missions. Mrs. Harpster told how the war had affected the German Lutheran missions on the east coast of India. She said that all the German missionaries had been sent home and that it was extremely difficult to carry on the work they had been doing.

TRUSTEES MEET

TIME SET FOR HEARING PROTESTS IN SYCAMORE CANYON ROAD IMPROVEMENT

The regular weekly meeting of the board of trustees of the city of Glendale was held Monday evening, Feb. 14, 1916, in the city hall. Present, O. A. Lane, president of the board, and Trustees Chas. Grist, J. S. Thompson, A. W. Tower and Geo. Williams. Also present, T. W. Watson, city manager; J. C. Sherer, city clerk; W. E. Evans, city attorney; H. B. Lynch, manager of Public Service dept.

A communication was read from the city engineer submitting the result of his footing up of the frontage represented on the petition of protest against being included in the assessment district for the opening and widening of Sycamore Canon road, showing that the petition represents 30.9 per cent of the total of the frontage of the district, or in other words, 49,042.03 feet out of a total of 158,772.52 feet.

On motion of Trustee Tower, the hearing of protests against being included in this assessment district for the opening and widening of Sycamore Canyon road was set for Monday, February 28, at 8:00 p. m.

The demands were referred to the Finance committee.

On motion, Ordinance Number 254, "An ordinance of the City of Glendale amending Ordinance No. 14, entitled 'An ordinance of the City of Glendale providing for the assessment and collection of city taxes,'" was ordered to be taken up for third and final reading, and after considerable discussion, upon being read, was on motion of Trustee Grist adopted.

The city engineer presented a map of Tract 3062, and upon motion of Trustee Tower, Resolution No. 887, "A resolution approving map of Tract No. 3062, and accepting on behalf of the public the avenues, streets, alleys, and public places shown thereon," was taken up for reading. The manager of the Public Service department read the specifications for the requirements to be covered in the bids as ordered above, and upon motion of Trustee Tower, said specifications were adopted.

The city attorney reported that in the matter of the opening and widening of Adams street, the interlocutory decree has been issued by the court on this date.

At 8:30 p. m. the board declared a recess.

CITY SOCIAL LIFE

MANY PARTIES AND DANCES USHER IN THE SPRING WEATHER

DELIGHTFULLY INFORMAL

Among the delightful functions of this week was the informal evening spent in the home of the D. T. Florys at No. 122 East Park avenue, on the 14th inst. The decorations were exceedingly pretty, quantities of Enchantress carnations in pink and fern fronds being the attractive combination about the rooms.

Music and many clever games were enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Flory served an elaborate buffet supper to Messrs. and Mesdames Clifford H. Cunningham, the D. B. Pingrees, E. W. Kenrick, N. R. Moore, Wallace Fryer, the E. L. Greys and Rev. and Mrs. John H. Troy.

SURPRISE VALENTINE PARTY

What proved to be a pleasing affair was a surprise party given in honor of Elizabeth Mottern, the young daughter of the Rev. R. W. Mottern and Mrs. Mottern of the First Lutheran church, at their home, 340 S. Central, Monday night. The party was arranged by Miss Mabel D. Schultz of the Bible school class of which Miss Elizabeth is a member. The young people had a pleasant time cutting out hearts from white paper, setting two hearts together and piercing them with red arrows, then writing appropriate verses on them. Appropriate Valentine's day decorations adorned the supper room where delicious refreshments were served. The young people present were: Miss Mabel D. Schultz, teacher of hygiene in the public schools; Cynthia Mott, Tillie Klein, Esther Klein, Louise Daugherty, Leora Price and Elizabeth Mottern.

POST-NUPTIAL DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. George E. F. Duffet, the latter nee Miss Josephine Keller, one of the brides of this month, furnished the inspiration for a distinctly pretty dinner given by Miss George Y. B. Duffet at their Chestnut street home on Monday evening. The table was abloom with a veritable bed of scarlet blossoms, hearts and feathery ferns, covers being laid for the special guests of honor, the charming young hostess, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leslie, the latter a sister of Mrs. Duffet, Mrs. M. S. Gibbs, Mrs. Henriet Williams, Mr. A. Keller, a brother of the bride and Mr. Blair Williams.

A reproduction of the large table was arranged for the wee guests, covers being laid for June, Roberta and Billy McIntosh, also Eva, Dorothy and Donald Leslie.

BIRTHDAY EVENT

A happy occasion of the week took place this afternoon, when Mesdames H. Lee Clotworthy, John W. Usilton, H. C. Bishop, Leon Wilkinson, Chester Kling and E. Tudor, a visitor in the Englehorn home from Cincinnati, extended a birthday surprise to Mrs. Phillip Englehorn in her home at 908 Lomita avenue. A merry game of "hearts," conversation and the opening of the pretty gifts given Mrs. Englehorn occupied the afternoon hours and following a tasty collation was served at the large board abloom with spring flowers.

BARACA ENTERTAINMENT

One of the best entertainments given by the First M. E. Baraca class took place last evening in the Epworth League room of the church, corner of Third and Dayton, when the following program was presented: Vocal solo, Mr. Ralph Lusby; Irish skit, "Pat and Michael"—Alex McDonald and Chas. Hezmalmalch; milk drinking contest won by Fred Farr; debate, "Resolved that the word 'obey' should be left out of the marriage ceremony"—Negative, Mr. Jas. McBryde; affirmative, Mr. H. C. Clewett; a Dutch duet—Clarence Edwards and H. A. Matthiesen. At the close of the program a social evening was enjoyed and refreshments were served. About 75 were present.

NEW LEAP YEAR PROFESSION

William J. Kibby is a leap year expert. He professes to offer advice concerning the habits, characteristics and dispositions of various sorts of men for the purpose of helping the women to win their hearts' desires without suffering rebuff in the process.

A good deal of what Kibby says is based on phrenology. Beware, oh maidens, he cries, the man with thin, straight lips. He is a stonyhearted creature. On him no leap year appeal would have the slightest effect. This kind of man will go his own way and would not hesitate a moment in turning aside from a gentle maiden's offer. He will rule his own household.

You must look, says Kibby the wise, for the man with full, well-formed lips. He has a capacity and an inclination for love and affection. He also is susceptible to the right sort of feminine approach.

There are some significant signs in men, says Kibby the sage, remember you are getting all this advice free, gratis and for nothing—who show by the redness of their lips the love that is aroused in their hearts. If his under lip is crimson and you want him act quickly. He is the right sort.

So much for Mr. Kibby and his advice. It is extremely gratifying to some people to read the words of wisdom that fall from his lips. When you want to know something that is of real importance in the course of your heart's life, however, you have to hand yourself over to the vocational guide and trust him absolutely. What advice you get free will not do you a great deal of good and after all when it comes to securing a lover and husband the good, old plan that has persisted since the first parents of the human race wandered free from care in the garden of Eden, oblivious of leap years and divorce courts is as effective at the present moment as it was then. Mutual love springs up in hearts attuned to each other and where passion is not mistaken for love the union can never be broken and the love can never die.

AIDING THE JEWS IN EUROPE

How immediate and how pressing is the need for assistance for the destitute Jews of Europe can be seen in the story of conditions in Russia as told by the well known Russian lawyer who is also a communal worker in Petrograd. At a recent meeting of the Jewish Relief committee in that city, this individual, Attorney Sliosberg, showed that 350,000 Russian Jews are in need of relief. They need for their wants $750,000 a month or about $8,000,000 a year. It is said that the Russian government is certain to devote $1,500,000 for that purpose. The rest will have to come from the Jews and their well wishers.

Driven from their homes, their means of subsistence destroyed, their able-bodied men dead or fighting in the ranks, the case of the Jews in Russia is miserable in the extreme. They have been distributed over 161 different localities. Forty thousand of them are still on the trains which carry them to definite places, while forty thousand others are still wandering about without any definite place of residence.

The number of Russian refugees from Russian Poland and the other parts of Russia that have been invaded by the Germans and the Austrians is estimated by the Tatiana committee of Petrograd, the most influential of all the relief committees in Russia, at 13,000,000. The Russian government is doing its best to feed and clothe these people whom its order brought from Poland and whom the invaders drove out from other places. It is certain that whatever may be its intentions the Russian government cannot assist this multitude in the manner in which it should be done and that unless other aid is given not fewer than 1,000,000 of these refugees will die before the winter is over.

Great Britain is unofficially aiding the refugees as much as possible. The "Great Britain to Poland fund" organized and supported by such Britons as Lady Byron, Viscount Bryce, the Duke of Newcastle, the Earl of Roseberry and the Lord Mayor of London, at the instance of Princess Bariatinsky, who is better known as the famous Russian actress, Madame Yavorska, is feeding between 4000 and 7000 refugees daily at Petrograd, Moscow, Minsk and at several small towns close to the front.

As can be imagined even this relief reaches only those who are at hand to receive it. What of the others who are wandering homeless on the roads? Nothing in the whole war is so pitiful as the sight of little children homeless, parentless, and with clothing worn and torn by travel, sleeping in empty freight cars, cold railway stations, or on the blizzard-swept sidewalks of Russian cities, and slowly dying because they have no food.

Anyone who thinks war a great thing should be sent to mingle in that huddled mass of humanity that has been thrust out from burning homes all through Galicia (Austrian Poland) East Prussia, (German Poland) and Russian Poland. The roads are full of them, the fields are dotted with the bodies of those who have died.

In the provinces of Kovno, Grodno and Vilna the condition of the Jews is most pitiable. The German authorities do not allow any provisions to be imported into those provinces from Germany, so that the inhabitants there are actually starving. Bread is 50 cents a loaf, butter $2.25 a pound, coffee $1.10 a pound and all other food high in proportion. The Jews in Switzerland, in Canada and in England are contributing liberally and yet the demand for relief is not satisfied. All the Jews ask is just enough to tide them over till the close of the war. If they can be kept alive that is about all that can be done meanwhile. If they should be allowed to go without assistance this winter the remnant of Jews in Europe would be small indeed and the loss to the human race would be enormous.

These poor Jews—not the ablebodied for these are in the ranks of the various armies—but the feeble, the sick, the aged, and, alas, the little children and the young girls and boys, the hope of the nation, are appealing to the United States to save them. Shall they appeal in vain? On Thursday, February 17—Tag Day—the people of Glendale will have an opportunity to contribute to the fund that will help to save them. The few who have already contributed do not represent by any means what Glendale can and ought to do.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Large audiences were present at both services Sunday. The missionary address by Rev. Giles G. Brown of Ceylon was intensely interesting, inspiring and instructive. Mr. Brown has the happy faculty of making his audience see things and feel the importance and worth of missionary effort. He spoke of the people of Northern Ceylon as thrifty, frugal and industrious. There is, however, much poverty and degradation. The climate is tropical and the soil fertile, but methods of agriculture are crude and often unscientific.

The United States has considerable trade with Ceylon. The speaker said for the ten months of 1915, January 1 to October 1, there was imported from Ceylon to this country 9,000,000 pounds of tea, or 1-20 of the whole product; rubber, 7,000 tons, equal to 1-3 of total production; cocoa, 266 tons; spices, 100,000 pounds; cinnamon, 1,000,000 pounds; cocoanut oil, 6,000 tons; dessicated cocoanut, 5,500,000 pounds; plumbag, 10,000 tons; coir, 514 tons; Citronella oil, 800,000 pounds.

The Congregational Church has established and maintains schools, churches and hospitals among this people. Many natives have accepted Christianity.

For nearly an hour Reynolds E. Blight held the close attention of his audience with his eloquent address on "The Great Patriotism." The speaker is opposed to the use of force in offense or defense. Differences between nations should be settled by arbitration, not by force of arms. This country has the opportunity of all time to lead the nations of the world in the peaceful settlement of differences.

To prepare for war is to invite war. The sermon on the Mount and the Golden Rule must be read and practiced by nations as well as by individuals.

The coming Sunday evening Dr. Clement Burbank Shaw will give a scenic and dramatic presentation of Parsifal.

BROADWAY P. T. A.

GLENDALE LAND COLONY

A colony is now being formed consisting of twenty-five families or more to secure a large tract of land for settlement. Any desiring information please call or phone H. A. Wilson, Glendale, Cal. Both phones.

RIBBONS

Ribbons, more ribbons, and still more ribbons! Everywhere, in expected and in unexpected places, they appear. Entire little hats are made of rows of ribbons, or the crown of a flat capote is made of tiny ribbons with only a narrow brim showing. Huge bows appear on some hats; others have bands of folded ribbon from which upstanding loops arise to conceal the tops, so that no straw is visible save the brim.

Lovely dresses or negligees of net with silk coatees, are banded from the center of the waist down, with the narrowest of shirred ribbon, the quillings of ribbon being placed at four-inch intervals.

Ribbon ties of velvet or silk appear on the frilly collars, even hanging down the back; and broader bands are worn with the more severe turnover collars for tailor suits.

Jackets, made of ribbons in wide Roman stripes, are far smarter than the crepe de chine sweaters. Dresses are trimmed with rows of ribbon, and net frocks are completely covered with wide sash ribbon in floral effect. Ribbon bags and ribboned buckles appear. The more odd the use, the more effective it is.

TROPICO

N. P. Banks, W. R. C. No. 67, of Tropico, met in regular session Friday afternoon. With the initiation of Mrs. Mary La Fountaine into the Corps, the membership was increased to 121. During the meeting arrangements were made for the celebration of Washington's, Lincoln's and McKinley's birthdays by N. P. Banks Post and Corps, which will take place in G. A. R. hall Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, February 20. The public is invited to be present and assist in honoring these revered patriots.

Several visitors were present at the session and made very pleasing and instructive talks for the benefit of the Corps. Mrs. Leeds from Richard Oglesby Corps, No. 4, of Dallas, Texas, spoke of the work done in that far-away Southland, which showed that location and environments do not influence patriotism or love for the protectors of our glorious Union. Mrs. Wright of Stanton Corps, Los Angeles, gave kindly greetings from the sister corps and many kind expressions for our welfare and good works.

For the all-day meeting of Post and Corps, February 25, the president appointed the following committee on refreshments: Mesdames Hammond, Saunders, Hibbert, Ogier, Milligan, Meyers and Dutton, which virtually assures all that there will be an excellent and bountiful dinner.

The interior of Knights of Pythias hall presented a veritable bower of beauty and fragrance Saturday evening, when a coterie of friends assembled and amidst dancing, feasting and a delightful program tendered Miss Marie Bondy, the talented young protege of Miss Marjorie Rambeau, a farewell party. Many graceful palms and feathery ferns were utilized in the pretty decorations, while quantities of American Beauty roses, purple Iris and fragrant violets lent and added charm to this bower wherein Miss Bondy bade her many friends goodbye and received their congratulations and best wishes upon the eve of her departure for New York City, where she will pursue studies under the tutelage of noted artists. Miss Bondy contemplates leaving Thursday and will be met in Chicago by Miss Rambeau.

The open meeting of the Park Avenue Parent-Teacher association, which was held in the Park Avenue school building Friday afternoon, was of unusual interest to the large number of patrons and friends who assembled to enjoy the splendid program as arranged by Mrs. Edward Henry Weston, chairman of programs. Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore, president of the Cerritos Street school Parent-Teacher association gave several child dialect readings in her own clever and inimitable manner. Mrs. John H. Saman, in a most elaborate Japanese costume, gave several readings of Sadakichi Hartmann's, the clever New York art critic.

Another delightful feature of the afternoon was given by Mrs. Edith Kinney Spellman, who presented "Babies of the Exposition," from an Idyl of the Fine Arts Colonnade. This interesting program was interspersed by several songs rendered by Miss Elvira Hill, principal of the Park avenue school.

Thursday afternoon, Feb. 17., will be of special interest to the Tropico Thursday club, as Mrs. Carrie Stone Freeman, chairman of Department of Music of Los Angeles District, will present a musical program. The meeting will be held in the City Hall and the hostesses for the afternoon will incude Mrs. O. Earl Clements, Mrs. E. K. Barnes, Mrs. D. H. Smith and Mrs. Claude O. Pulliam.

In happy recognition of the seventeenth anniversary of Miss Marjorie Imler, Mrs. Frank I. Marsh celebrated with a prettily appointed dinner at her home, 129 North Central avenue, Monday evening. Mrs. Marsh asked Marjorie's grandfather, J. B. Hickman, to share the honors of this Valentine young girl, also Mrs. David H. Imler and Miss Hickman. A low cut bowl of white hyacinths and ferns, from which peeped blue eyed violets, centered the table and lent a charm and fragrance to the happy occasion.

Mrs. Louise Purnell of West Tenth street leaves tomorrow morning for Redlands, in response to a message announcing the passing on of Mrs. Ella Smith, wife of Frank T. Smith of Springfield, Ill., which occurred in Redlands Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who are old-time friends of Mrs. Purnell, came to California about five years ago, residing in Arizona and California intermittently as the climate seemed to improve the health of the patient sufferer, Mrs. Smith. While at the home of Mrs. Purnell, Mr. and Mrs. Smith made many friends and many are the friends and acquaintances in Tropico and Glendale who are extending their sympathy to Mr. Smith in the passing of his wife. Following brief services Mr. Smith will leave Thursday for Taylorville, Ill., with the remains of Mrs. Smith, where interment will occur.

One of the most delightful social events of this week will be the U. S. 500 card party to be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace Kimberly, on South San Fernando boulevard, Friday evening. The decorations are to be quite unique and fac-similes of various military and naval forts will feature this charming social function. Mrs. Kimberly will be assisted by Mrs. Charles A. Barker, Miss Cora Hickman, Mrs. C. H. Phillips, Mrs. O. Earl Clements and Mrs. Henry F. Goodwin.

Miss Dora Kuhns of Pensacola, Florida, who has been the house guest of Miss Elsie Anderson and her sister, Miss Nan Anderson, at their delightful home on Virginia Place, for the past week, was the charming honoree at an elaborately appointed dinner party Sunday evening, given by the Misses Anderson. The table was centered with a pretty French basket, which overflowed with white hyacinths and narcissus, arranged with ferns. Guests who thus honored Miss Kuhns and accepted the hospitality of Miss Anderson and her sister, were Mr. and Mrs. William Hewitt, Miss Dora Hewitt, Mr. Will Hewitt and brother, Mr. Albert Hewitt.

GROWING LETTUCE IN THE HOUSE

You may have all the fun that comes from raising an indoor garden, and at the same time produce a table delicacy, by having a window box of lettuce, says the Country Gentleman. If the plants are properly watered, a temperature of 45 to 50 degrees is maintained and plenty of fresh air given, even head lettuce may be raised indoors.

The window box should be about 14 inches wide, 9 inches deep and as long as the window. Holes should be bored in the bottom of the box about four inches apart, and below the box should be placed a pan to catch surplus water that may drip through.

In the bottom of the box is placed a one-inch layer of such coarse material as broken crockery or cinders. On top of that is placed the soil.

The seeds may be sown in the box in a single row across one end and about half an inch deep. When the seedlings are two inches high they are transplanted to stand about sever inches apart. The varieties Belmont and Hittinger's Forcing are excellent for growing in this manner.

HINTS ON SPRING GARDENING

By Hans Von Hoofgarden

The long continuance of wet weather brings us to an extremely late planting program. The soil is in good condition now, to get ready for the early spring planting. All hardy planting should be rushed.

Trim your Rose Bushes, Fruit Trees and Grape Vines. It should be done this month, don't put it off any longer, cut your Rose Bushes down to 18 or 20 inches from the ground. It will not ruin your bushes, but you will be well repaid for your labor with an abundant crop of beautiful long-stemmed Roses; cover the ground around the bushes with three inches of cow manure, they like good strong food. Barrooted Roses should be planted now. Water, mixed with common sense and a well prepared bed to back it up will grow magnificent Roses in California.

All deciduous Trees should be planted this month, like Peaches, Plums, Apricots, Apples, Pears, Prunes, Almonds, Walnuts, Quinces, Persimmons, Mulberries, Chestnuts, Pecans, etc. Plant some Mammoth Black Long or Dewberries, also Grapevines. The plant holes should be dug at least a foot larger than actually required by the roots when spread out in their natural position; the top soil should be broken down into the hole and worked carefully in between every root and fiber, filling up every crevice, that every root may be in contact with soil and the whole made quite firm as the filling up progresses. When the hole is nearly filled in, a pail of water should be thrown in to settle and wash in the soil around the roots. The ground should be kept loose and free from weeds; put a cover of rough manure or litter around the tree, this will conserve the moisture and prevent the ground from drying out and baking. Prune Trees after planting.

Time to get busy in the Vegetable garden. Plant Asparagus Roots, Burbank Winter Rhubarb, this is a continuous cropper. Strawberry plants, Brandywine and Klondike are excellent kinds.

Sow Beets, Peas, Lettuce, Kale, Parsnips, Radishes, Spinach, Swiss Chard, Turnips, Onions, Parsley.

Plant Potatoes, Onion sets, Garlick.

Tomato, Pepper and Egg Plants should not be planted till the middle of March.

Clean up the weed-covered back yard, plant some Pansies, Carnation Plants; sow Sweet Peas now; get some of those fine Spencer varieties like King Edward, Scarlet, Lady Hamilton, Lavender, Dorothy Eckford, White, Lovely, Pink; plant clean colors.

Sow Poppies, Candytuft, Cosmos, Mignonette, Larkspur, Godetia, Scabiosa, Annual Chrysanthemum, Calendula, Sweet Alyssum, Coriopsis, etc.

Cover that bare fence with a vine, plant Palm and Shade Trees in your parking; a few hanging baskets for the porch. So get in line for the Home Beautiful. Nature gladly helps those who seek her aid in the joyous work of making our city more beautiful.

PEOPLE HAVING VACANT GROUND IN CROPS ARE REMINDED OF WEED PROBLEM

There is going to be as big a crop of weeds on the vacant lots this year as last, according to all indications. The city now has the power to clear all lots of weeds at the expense of the owner. This work will be begun some time in July. It is suggested by the city that owners of lots which they are having cultivated or which they are permitting others to cultivate should see that the summer weeds are carefully destroyed before the city takes up that work.

"It would be well," said City Manager Watson, "that those who either cultivate their lots themselves or permit others to do so should see that the weeds, of which there will be a large crop this year, are destroyed. Those who are making arrangements for people to grow crops on their lots should arrange the terms of lease so that the summer weeds will be destroyed. By July lots that have been properly cleared will be accepted by the city without further trouble.

"It would also be well for those who are having their lots ploughed or who are ploughing them themselves to see that the earth is ploughed inward, away from the sidewalk. The loose earth will thus not be thrown on the sidewalk and this will help to keep the city clean.

"The city has now built 1300 feet of very substantial protection on both sides of the Verdugo Wash in the vicinity of Howard street. Heavy redwood posts have been driven into the sand to a distance of five feet. These have been strung with barbed wire, fastened at 6-inch intervals. Behind this entrenchment has been piled heavy brush and rock, making a solid reinforcement and adding to the protection against the flood waters.

"Parties having dirt and refuse of any kind with the exception of tin cans can obtain permission at the city hall to deposit it at the Howard street protection work, thus adding to the protection already constructed by the city.

"This Howard street work was completed this week and the city is now reasonably free from danger at this point, which was one of the most dangerous points on the Verdugo Wash."

GRATIFYING PROGRESS MADE IN RAISING FINANCES—$100 MORE IS NEEDED

The Flower Show Committee of the Glendale Garden society met Monday night at headquarters, twelve of the fifteen members being present. Mrs. Ella Richardson, chairman, presided, aided by Mr. Peter Oliver, secretary of the Flower Show committee. Reports from the finance and other sub-committees were of the most encouraging nature. Several large donations towards the general expenses of the Free Flower Show have been received; other subscriptions of substantial amount have been promised. Altogether the sum of about $200 of the required amount is in sight; only $100 more will have to be raised. With the Flower Show still more than two months away, the prospects are most gratifying.

The Schedule of Exhibits will be placed today in the printers' hands. Careful proof reading will be necessary, as the schedule calls for over 250 classes of exhibits; but it is to be hoped that the schedule will be ready for the public within one week from now. Mr. Morris Caruthers has this department in charge.

The final details of the monster Free Picture show to be given at the Palace Grand on Saturday morning, Feb. 19, were perfected. This picture display, to which everyone in Glendale is invited, has been made possible by the kindness of Professor C. L. Schufeldt, who will conduct the display of over a hundred very beautiful slides, and by the generosity of Mr. Jensen, manager, who has donated the use of the Palace Grand absolutely free to the Garden Society for this Saturday morning.
